Thailand Forces Near 5,000 Goal

U.S. Flies Reinforcements To Man Defensive Positions

BANGKOK, Thailand (UPI)—The United States military build-up in Thailand neared its 5,000-man goal today and American officials expressed satisfaction with their speedy deployment to defensive positions.

The last few hundred reinforcements were flying in from Hawaii on 13-hour, one-stop flights.

After a round of weekend inspections and conferences by the U.S. commander for Southeast Asia, Gen. Paul D. Harkins, processing of the new men and materials was functioning like clockwork.

U.S. Ambassador Kenneth Todd Young told newsmen Sunday that American forces will remain in Thailand "so long as the situation remains confused, dangerous and a threat to Thailand's security."

Long Stay Possible

Young indicated that a political settlement among the three rival princes of neighboring Laos would not necessarily mean U.S. troops would leave Thailand immediately.

The Thai government is concerned about internal subversion and is particularly anxious to silence the clandestine "Voice of Thailand" radio which has been broadcasting Communist propaganda.

Radio direction finders have pinpointed its location in the Plain of Jars, rebel-held territory in Laos.

Thai government officials believe the radio is operating under the auspices of former Thai Premier Panomyong Pridi with Communist China's support. It has aimed its agitation particularly at northeast Thailand where American Marines are stationed.

Set Up Camp

The Marines have established a temporary field camp near Udorn, about 35 miles from the Laotian capital of Vientiane.

Brig. Gen. Orman Simpson, deputy commander of the 3rd Marine Division, flew there Sunday to assume command of the group.

Ambassador Young said the final deployment probably would be worked out within a week. He said the Marines would be placed in "ready" positions, not in permanent barracks.

Cyrus Vance Army Head

NEW YORK (UPI)—Cyrus R. Vance, 45, an attorney and World War II naval officer, Sunday was named secretary of the Army by President Kennedy to succeed Elvis Stahr.

Vance, general counsel of the Department of Defense in Washington, will take over June 30 when Stahr's resignation becomes effective. His appointment to the $22,000-a-year job is subject to Senate confirmation.

He served on destroyers in both the Atlantic and Pacific during the war after entering the Navy in 1942. He was discharged in 1946 with the rank of lieutenant.

Hiller Wants a Debate With Rep. D. S. Saund

Ray Hiller of Palm Springs, the only opponent facing Congressman Dalip S. Saund on the Democratic ballot in the June 5 primary election, today announced the Federal Communications Commission has promised him TV and radio time equal to that used by Saund.

Hiller told the Desert Sun he has been trying to arrange for either a radio or television debate with Saund, but has been unable to reach him at the Baltimore hospital where the congressman is under treatment for a recently suffered stroke.

Red Rebels' Leader Set For Talks

By EUGENE MCLOUGHLIN
United Press International

Prince Souphanouvong, leader of the pro-Communist Pathet Lao rebels, proclaimed himself ready today to talk with his rival neutralist and pro-Western princes about a coalition government for Laos.

The prince coupled his statement with a denunciation of American troops movements to Thailand and accused the United States of "taking a new step in their scheme to rekindle and expand war in Laos."

The prince's statement was broadcast by the clandestine voice of Laos radio and rebroadcast by North Viet Nam's Radio Hanoi. It was monitored in Tokyo.

It comprised the first direct statement by the prince that he is willing to resume negotiations, although several of his followers had said he would do so.

Princes Will Meet

Souphanouvong said he welcomed the proposal of Prince Souvanna Phouma, his half-brother and a declared neutralist, to convene a new meeting with pro-Western Premier Boun Oum on the Plain of Jars.

"I declare that I am ready to participate in that meeting with the unswerving constructive good will of the Neo Lao Haksat," he declared. Neo Lao Haksat is the political arm of the Pathet Lao. Souvanna left Paris over the weekend and arrived in Burma for talks with Gen. Ne Win, chairman of Burma's Revolutionary Council. He planned to continue to Laos today to set up the meeting.

He told newsmen in Rangoon he hoped "to be able to give good news to the world in a few weeks time."

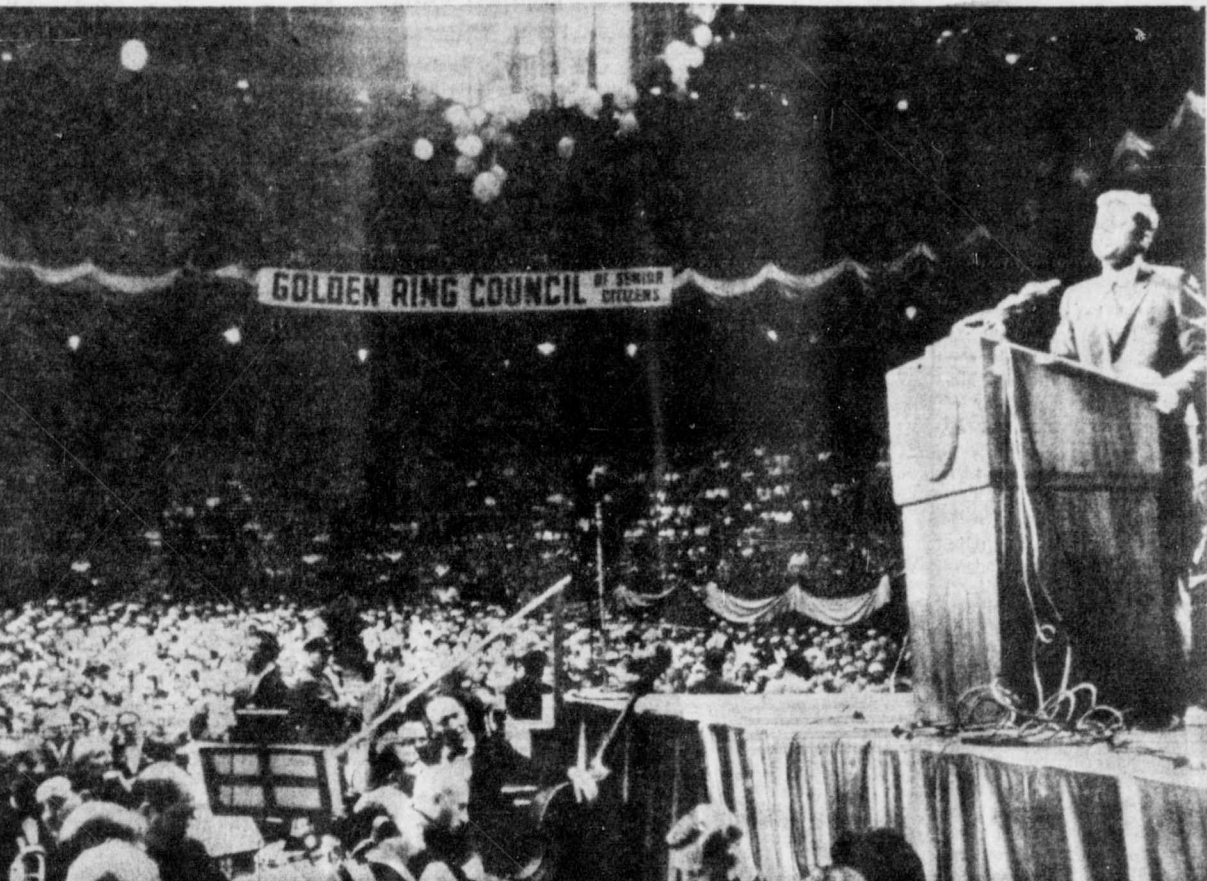

He did not appear nearly so perturbed about the U. S. troops movement to Thailand. He said he considered it in the light of Southeast Asia Treaty Organization commitments and had been assured the Americans would not enter Laos.

U. S. Force Arrives

The 5,000-man American task force neared the end of its build-up in Thailand today just four days after the first Marines landed in Bangkok.

The Marines went quietly about their business of shoring up Thailand's resistance to communism despite the barrage of propaganda from Peiping and Moscow.

AMA - President Battle on Medical Care Grows Hot

HITTING HARD at the American Medical Association, President Kennedy speaks out on his medical care for the aged program in New York City's Madison Square Garden to a crowd of 22,000 persons, many of them elderly. The President urged the nation's doctors to get the facts on the proposed legislation, saying, "I do not recognize the bill," referring to the way it was explained in the AMA's Journal. (UPI Telephoto)

Kennedy, Aides Throw Sunday Punches Hard

NEW YORK (UPI) — The American Medical Association (AMA) was set to slug back today at the Kennedy administration's Sunday punch on the hot issue of medical care.

President Kennedy and other top administration officials threw the punch Sunday at giant rallies across the nation on behalf of his plan to finance medical care for the aged through the Social Security program.

Kennedy, in a speech to 22,000 persons in New York City's Madison Square Garden and a nationwide television audience, went over the head of the AMA to appeal directly to doctors to support his program — the King-Anderson bill.

The AMA, bitter opponent of the administration plan, announced it would reply to Kennedy at 8 p.m., EDT, on a nationally televised program ("Your Doctor Reports" — NBC-TV).

President's Appeal Gets Challenge

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy today urged labor, business and the public to forget political differences and help the administration get the economy into high gear. He was immediately challenged by a business leader.

Opening a White House conference on national economic issues, Kennedy said he needed support from every group to make the United States a "model for the world."

Shortly after he spoke, J. W. Kenner, president of the B. F. Goodrich Co., attacked the administration's wage-price guidelines. He told the conference they were impractical and unwise.

Said Kenner: The guidelines "may hinder settlements, lead to unnecessary strikes, or bring about settlements not in the long-range interests of the parties because it imposes nonapplicable national judgments into local situations."

In a verbal jab at the President's attack on the steel price increase, Kenner said that government power should not be applied to particular groups at the discretion of federal officials.

Three Injured Seriously in C.C. Accident

CATHEDRAL CITY — Three persons were seriously injured here Sunday afternoon in a mishap involving a pickup truck and U.S. postal vehicle which collided at the intersection of Van Fleet and 'E' street, according to the California Highway Patrol.

Two youngsters, Patrick Geer, 5, and his brother Michael, 10, who were passengers in the back of the pickup were thrown from the truck as was the driver of the vehicle, Harland Gleason Greer, 45, of 775 E St. here. The three received serious injuries and were treated at the Desert Hospital, the CHP reported.

Driver of the other vehicle, Paul Fletcher Jones, 23, of 586 B St., was also treated for injuries but later released. No citations were issued.

City Council Agenda for Tonight Told

The Palm Springs City Council minus Mayor Frank Bogert who is out of town on business will receive a request for location of a charity rummage shop on North Palm Canyon Drive today.

The Welfare and Friendly Aid Association, Inc., has written the council asking permission to locate "The Et Cetera Salon" upstairs at 278 S. Palm Canyon Drive. The council will consider policy implications for the requested location on the city's mid-town main street during the 7:30 p.m. meeting in city council chambers today.

A public hearing will be held on the application by R. C. Ellis Safari Trailer Park, for a change of zone from C-2, commercial, to trailer from trailer to C-2 for lands in Section 30, south of Highway 111.

Other planning matters slated before the council include consideration of a setback variance requested by California Electric Power Co. for a building in the 100 block of East Andreas Road; the La Paz compromise zoning recommended by the planning commission; and consideration of the mid-town area for study of Urban Renewal eligibility.

The planning commission has recommended survey of the area from Alejo Road to Baristo Road, and from Belardo Road on the West to Indian Avenue on the east.

CVSL Building Under Check by City's Workers

A 26,000 square foot Coachella Valley Savings and Loan Association building, planned with two-level parking, is now undergoing plans check by the Palm Springs Building Department.

The building, already approved by the city council, may be under construction in June, Jack Sanders, building inspector, said today.

Total cost of the new headquarters for the CVSLA may near $1 million, with nearly $600,000 construction costs.

News In Brief

Palm Desert Will Fight 'Ghost Town'

PALM DESERT — A special effort to avoid the so-called "ghost town" appearance of the business district here during the summer months has been pledged by members of the Palm Desert Business & Professional Association, Ed Dewey, president, announced today.

Members who close down for the summer will avoid the use of large "closed for the season" signs, replacing them with small signs on the door stating "gone on vacation," Dewey said.

In addition many plan to set up attractive window displays and avoid the usual aluminum foil-covered windows, Dewey announced. He said members feel that local business would probably stay at a higher level if the community kept looking alive.

Dewey also announced that the business group will hold a dinner meeting Saturday, May 26, at 7:30 p.m. and reservations should be made at the Shadow Mountain Club no later than Thursday.

court declared that grand jury indictments in contempt of Congress cases must pinpoint the subject being investigated when the witness is questioned.

HOLLANDIA, West New Guinea (UPI) — Dutch officials reported today that more than 400 Indonesian soldiers and paratroopers now have been landed on West New Guinea and that a combined air, land and sea attack would be launched against them within 48 hours.

The Dutch were reported considering bombing Indonesian island bases.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy will hold a news conference Wednesday at 1 p.m. PDT, the White House announced today.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — James L. Kunen, a part-time consultant to the Office of Emergency Planning, was fired today because he was involved in an "apparent conflict of interest" in 1953 and 1956.

The action was announced by Edward A. McDermott, director of the Office of Emergency Planning, which supervises the nation's stockpile of strategic goods. McDermott said in a statement that "evidence in my possession indicates that Mr. Kunen, while employed as a consultant to the Office of Defense Mobilization in 1953 and 1956, involved himself in an apparent conflict of interest relating to a company that had a matter pending for disposition before the Office of Defense Mobilization."

Car Damage By Winds On Highway

Sharp winds which whipped heavy sands in 50 to 60 mile per hour gusts Sunday hampered traffic and caused extensive damage to vehicles on Highway 99 and Highway 111, Palm Springs police and the California Highway Patrol reported today.

Desert roads in the Palm Springs-Indio area were closed to campers, trailers and light sports cars late Saturday. A roadblock established on North Palm Canyon Drive early Sunday at the request of the CHP was removed at 11:25 a.m. Sunday because of lack of personnel. Two trailers had been overturned near Windy Point on Highway 111 early Sunday, police traffic Sgt. Nick Maff reported. The incidents apparently did not involve personal injury.

Strong winds in the northerly portions of Palm Springs and along Highway 111 to Highway 99 caused sand damage to vehicles and major sand movements on property during Sunday, police said.

Nationalist China Takes Refugees

TAIPEI, Formosa (UPI) — The Nationalist Chinese government today announced it will accept all Chinese Communist refugees who want to come to Formosa from Hong Kong.

Authorities in the British crown colony have cracked down recently on the flow of illegal refugees from Red China and have shipped thousands back.

CONFIDENCE FOR THURSDAY

Carpenter Timetable Now Set

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI) — Informed technical sources expressed confidence today that they could hold to the present timetable to rocket astronaut M. Scott Carpenter into orbit Thursday providing no new snags develop.

Repairs to Carpenter's Atlas booster rocket were clicking along smoothly and the weather was reported far better than at any time last week.

Carpenter originally was scheduled to be rocketed aloft May 15 but a series of difficulties with his space vehicle has caused four postponements.

The latest was called Saturday when scientists discovered "irregularities in the booster rocket that could have caused it to veer off course during the early stages of flight.

There were reports Sunday the latest troubles might force another delay beyond the present Thursday target date, but this was largely discounted today.

Carpenter, who took advantage of the work break Sunday to get in a day of relaxing and sunning with his fellow astronauts, returned to his rigid schedule today.

Although he had the day off Sunday, Carpenter did not get to see his wife and children who are still at their home at Langley Field, Va. The space agency indicated, however, the family still plans to come here to watch the launching.

Two Stabbed On Weekend In Springs

Two stabbing attacks marred the Palm Springs weekend, police reported today.

Isidro Gonzalo Del Rosario, 46, of 232 E. Arenas Road, was apprehended at 1:55 a.m. Sunday on suspicion of assault with a deadly weapon, after an alleged cutting of Paul R. Rangel, 58, of 612 Mountain View Drive.

Rangel told officers he had objected to Del Rosario's "coaching" in a card game late Saturday. The quarrel ended in a fist fight, but Del Rosario allegedly got a knife from his room and cut Rangel on the left wrist. The wound was sutured at Desert Hospital.

Lorraine Jerry, 49, 948 N. Cherry Street, Banning, was stabbed in the upper arms and left shoulder blade at approximately 8 a.m. Sunday as she approached the Park Lane Hotel, police reported. The victim told officers she was stabbed with a screw-driver by I.C. Harvey, 37, a former boy friend.

Death Probed In Estes Case

FRANKLIN, Tex. (UPI) — A grand jury today opened its investigation into the mysterious death of Henry Marshall an Agriculture Department agent who may have known more about the cotton allotment dealings of Billie Sol Estes than any other agriculture official.

Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman said many facts of the Estes case died with Marshall last June 3. Marshall was found with five bullet holes in his chest. A 22-caliber bolt-action rifle was nearby.

Justice of the Peace Lee Farmer ruled the death a suicide.

Closed-Door Testimony Set Today in Estes Case

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate investigators hoped to start taking testimony behind closed doors today on the operations of indicted Texas farm tycoon Billie Sol Estes.

Chairman John L. McClellan, D-Ark., called an afternoon meeting of the Senate investigations subcommittee. Interviews were planned for the morning, and McClellan expected to take testimony from some witnesses at the afternoon session, scheduled to begin at 2 p.m., EDT.

McClellan declined to name any witnesses in advance. He said some out-of-townners might be questioned, as well as officials from government agencies in Washington.

Informed sources said the Senate investigators had quietly arranged to examine the income tax files of Estes and others involved in his dealings with the government.

They said McClellan's subcommittee had asked for tax records of Estes and three former government officials who lost their jobs

Dear Mrs. Henry:

Would you be good enough to convey to the City Council our sincere appreciation of its efforts on our behalf in connection with the application for microwave service.

The common-carrier company who was the applicant, advises that they have received a construction permit from the F.C.C. Construction will begin within 30 days and will be completed within 90 days.

The cable systems, and their subscribers in Cathedral City, Rancho Mirage, Palm Desert, Palm City, and Indio will also benefit from the Council's efforts as they also are to be customers of the common-carrier.

We are grateful for the attention given to the Council's request by Senators Kuchel and Engle, and by Congressman Saund.

We are looking forward to many years of continued cooperative effort to provide total television service to residents of Palm Springs and the surrounding area.

Sincerely,

600 Persons Poisoned at Army Dinner

COLUMBIA, S.C. (UPI)—A lively Armed Forces Day dinner for 4,000 Ft. Jackson visitors and servicemen Sunday apparently brought violent illness to about 600 persons treated for food poisoning.

It was a fried chicken dinner served in 94-degree weather which Columbia doctors believed hospitalized almost 200 persons in the area.

In fact, the hospitals in the capital city area were so crowded treating food poison patients that at least one bus load of sick persons received a state highway patrol escort 65 miles.

There were no deaths reported from the food poisoning.

Many doctors who treated the victims diagnosed their illness as food poisoning but one military official denied it.

Doctors Disagree

"There is no evidence of food poisoning," said Col. Thomas G. Faison, hospital commander at Ft. Jackson, after 112 persons had been admitted to Army medical facilities. Hundreds of others had been treated by Army personnel and then released.

"It appears to be a combination of heat exhaustion, over-exertion and over indulgence of food and drink," he added.

However, while military authorities were examining further into the illnesses, many local physicians said they were definitely treating food poisoning.

"We called it acute gastroenteritis (inflammation of the living membrane of the stomach and the intestines) and our patients have been violently ill in some cases," said one doctor who treated a number of patients at Baptist Hospital.

Expects Trouble

Mrs. Martha Dickson, a lab technician at Baptist Hospital, was one of the 4,000 to go through three cafeteria lines which were set up on the reviewing field at Ft. Jackson, the Army's infantry training center.

"None of the food was iced," she said. "I was expecting somebody to get sick."

The food, prepared at mess halls, included fried chicken, potato salad, stringbeans, coffee, grape juice, rolls and butter, brownies, and ice cream.

AFTER THE SINGING by nearly 150 school children, President Lew Levy turned the first shovel of earth Sunday in breaking ground for construction of a new, six-room school building for added facilities at Temple Isaiah, while A. L. Levin, chairman of the building committee, checked plans to make certain of the site. Standing between the two is Dr. George Gillman and to the left of Levy are Zachary Pitts and Mrs. Lou Dubin. Children of the Jewish Community Center will go to school in the new building this coming fall. (Desert Sun Photo)

Park Study for Canyons Dropped By City Board

Palm Springs Park and Recreation Board members dropped a study of proposed state or national park status for Indian-owned canyons adjoining this resort city.

The discussion planned by the board has been temporarily shelved because of Agua Caliente Indian opposition to the plan. The Indians, led by Mrs. Eileen Miguel, tribal chairman, have emphasized that they wish to retain their canyon properties for commercial developments which will maintain the beauty of the canyons.

Palm Springs officials and some business representatives have expressed concern that the big canyon attractions — all outside the city limits — might receive "carnival" developments.

The canyons, Palm, Andreas, and Murray, draw several thousand tourists annually, but public operation of the canyons from last October through April resulted in a loss to the Indian Tribe this past year.

School Bond Issue to Be Heard on Radio Tonight

The upcoming election for $1,950,000 in school bonds will be aired tonight, when representatives of the Palm Springs Unified School District and the citizens committee for passage of the bonds appear in a panel on radio station KDES.

From the school district, Jack Miles, assistant superintendent of the district, and James Milliron, principal of the junior high school will speak. From the citizen's committee will be James Schlect, attorney, and Keene Larson. The program moderator will be KDES News Director Hap Trout.

Purpose of the broadcast will be to acquaint the listeners with all phases of the school bonding and the reason for it. If adopted, it will be to construct a new junior high school in the Palm Springs area.

KDES will present the program

Spa Air-Minded

Palm Springs residents are air-minded according to Bonanza Air Lines.

Between Jan. 1 and April 30, this year, 6,049 passengers boarded Bonanza planes. Total for the entire system was 128,657. The total put the city in sixth place on the company's air routes.

The company also reported that Palm Springs jumped from 13th to 6th in air express originating here during the same period.

Legion Auxiliary Appeals For Flying of Old Glory

"Have a Flag ready to fly on these upcoming Patriotic Days," is the appeal of the American Legion Auxiliary to householders of Palm Springs.

During May, June and July there are days when flags should be flown. Mrs. Dolores Lowery, Americanism chairman of Owen Coffman Auxiliary, Unit 519, lists the following days when the flag should be displayed:

Memorial Day, May 30; Flag Day, June 14, and Independence Day, July 4.

"Let's get ready to show our colors on the patriotic days ahead," Mrs. Lowery said. "By displaying freedom's flag we will

Paint Pictures As You Go

Felt-tip pen is preferable for preliminary black-and-white sketches, although a fountain pen and pencil are both useful for different interpretations of the subject matter.

When traveling schedule permits, stop and begin to plan your painting. Indicate dark areas by simple shading of the main shadows only before you begin to paint.

Although the above is a reproduction of a watercolor painting, any quick-drying medium is suitable for the itinerant painter. First paint approximate colors thinly, and gradually build up dark and light areas, adding detail.

What Is So Rare As This Kind of A Beautiful Day?

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI) — Once one day this space was devoted to what I call a "Day of Horrors"—when everything goes wrong from the time you get up until you're tucked out at night.

In all fairness, I decided the time had come for the other side of the picture—that a day of delight also should be chronicled. "What day would that be?" asked an irritated husband whose morning had started off poorly. He was out of razor blades and had gotten under the shower before he noticed the soap dish was empty.

"Almost any bright day in May is a day of delight," I countered. "Keep track, if you will, of one of these days and see how smoothly everything goes."

Perfect Breakfast

The egg yolks stay whole when the egg is broken into the frying pan at breakfast. The toaster at our house works like it was new—turning out golden brown bread instead of singed.

The boy produces the morning paper at the front door on time—on a "day of horrors," it always seems to arrive late.

No runs developed in a stocking as I got dressed on a delightful day. Matter of fact, one started off so beautifully I decided it was time to wear a new dress to work.

"You look nice, dear," said the husband. Yes, the day was going well.

The morning mail brought no bills, a rare thing in this era of staggered billings by the stores. A letter from home said a favorite uncle, on a hospital's critical list for several days, was on the mend.

On days like this, as you walk to the bus stop, the head goes a little higher, you breathe a little deeper and feel years younger.

The bus driver whistles while he works, instead of growling at the passengers and cussing the traffic.

"My, you look nice," said the boss when we walked into the office.

Company coming? Bake tiny biscuits. Split white hot, butter and insert small slices of boiled ham. A perfect appetizer choice—and so easy to make.

There, sitting on my desk, was a pot of lilies of the valley, sent by a press agent for a perfume which carries the lilies' scent. If anything helps make a day more flowers.

On days like this, if there are children in the family, there are delightful, it's a gift of spring halos around their heads instead of live worms in their pockets.

No Wails

At the office, everyone you want to reach by phone is in, instead of in conference. These are the days when any task is a pleasure, whether it's at the typewriter, out shopping, or home washing windows.

If it's shopping, the day of delights means the salesgirls are courteous and helpful, and are not looking the other way when you pull up at the counter. You find everything on your list, in your size, and of course spend more than you originally intended. But then, all this luck might not be around next time you're shopping.

It's So Nice to Have a Man Around the House...Cleaning

By JOYCE SCHULLER

CHICAGO (UPI) — What role does a husband have in your spring cleaning?

As professional house cleaners at ServiceMaster see it, it's a matter of knowing your man and how to work with him or around him.

Here's their rundown on the male personality types and how to deal with them at spring cleaning time:

The scavenger. No sooner do you finish cleaning out closets and storerooms than he begins sifting through discarded items for old fishing tackle and worn slippers. The only way to deal with this type is to keep him at a safe distance from rubbish piles. Don't give him a chance to undo your hard work.

The "artful dodger. His solution to the confusion of house cleaning is an elaborate get-away plan, which may involve staying late at the office, a bowling date

By HENRY GASSER

A New England fishing village greeting the dawn... a majestic redwood forest in the Northwest... bright lights and laughter along the Great White Way... a quiet, shimmering, tree-shaded lake seen from a Rocky Mountain peak... the historic monuments and buildings of the nation's capital.

Wherever your vacation takes you this spring and summer, you'll find sights and scenes you'll want to capture on canvas.

Paint as you go across our great country or abroad... always keeping an eye out for the unusual, the quaint, the humorous.

I usually prefer a felt-tip pen for gathering my black and white notes for future reference. It covers the paper area quickly with thin or heavy strokes, dries almost immediately. But it's also wise to carry a fountain pen or pencil—both useful for different interpretations of the subject matter.

No matter how familiar you are with the area you're visiting, interesting subjects will always pop up when you least expect them. So always be prepared. Carry your equipment with you—but as little equipment as possible.

A camera is a great memory aid... comes in very handy when you haven't much time to spend before an inviting scene. But don't depend too heavily on the little black box or you'll wind up photographing pictures instead of painting them.

Be prepared to do a lot of work while standing. That inviting rock or tree stump may be in a most inconvenient place.

When I travel, I try to make as many sketches as possible... my pen is almost continually working. I know that few of the subjects will wind up on canvas, but my sketches always serve as pleasant reminders of the trip... and they help to keep my hand and eye in practice.

Then, when time and your schedule permits, sit down and get to work with your paints. You'll find that a few basic colors cover a multitude of scenes. These include Alizarin Crimson, Cadmium Yellow Light, Grumbacher Red, French Ultramarine, Ivory Black, Light Red, Thalo Green, Thalo Blue, Yellow Ochre and Superba White. With these and a beginner's color chart in tow, you'll be able to mix every shade or tone you need.

I use a small eight by ten inch watercolor block when working in color and prefer a cold-pressed surface. At times I work with a pen, inking in the drawing and applying watercolor over the ink. Occasionally, I reverse the process, doing the watercolor first and then using the pen for details and accents.

A fast-drying medium is most important for the "itinerant" artist. I usually suggest casein for the beginner on this type of project because they dry quickly... allow you to use a watercolor or oil technique. You can pile the whole trunk of your car with casein paintings and have no fear of smear!

Remember to replenish your water supply each time you stop en route when you're working with watercolor or casein. If you use oils, keep a rag which has been dipped in turpentine around your brushes to prevent drying. At the end of each day's travels, clean the brushes thoroughly with soap and luke warm water.

I've found the disposable paper palette a real convenience. It saves the time and trouble spent cleaning a regular palette each day, or several times a day.

Don't be too surprised if, when going through sketches at the end of a day, you find two or more drawings of the same subjects. While wandering through the streets of an unfamiliar town, looking for interesting possibilities, I've often been attracted to the same scene from two different angles. Just remember that every line or stroke you put to paper or canvas brings you closer to the competence you're striving for.

Toasting The Bride Is Traditional

NEW YORK (UPI)—The first occasion for toasting the bride and bridegroom is at the engagement announcement party.

Traditionally, say etiquette experts, it is the custom for the father of the bride to offer the toast, followed by a toast from the father of the bridegroom.

The second important toasting occasion is at the bachelor dinner party given by the bridegroom for his ushers, best man and close friends.

After the bridegroom offers a toast to his bride the stems of the glasses are broken so they may never be used for a "less honorable purpose."

The next toasting comes the night before the wedding. At the rehearsal dinner, it is traditional for the father of the bride to make the first of the many toasts which are offered.

The final toasting takes place at the couple's wedding reception.

Suggested bridal toasts include:

"As unto the bow the cord is, so unto the man is woman. Though she draws him, yet she follows; unless each without the other."—Henry Wadsworth Longfellow.

"Let the bells ring for you; let the angels sing for you. Let the children dance for you and let us drink to you."—Anonymous.

How to Use Left-Over Vegetables

Reluctant to toss out those dabs of leftover vegetables? Making fritters is a novel way to put bits of leftover vegetables into company dress. Delicious Cheese-Corn Fritters are a good example. You'll think of other ways to vary the recipe.

To make Cheese-Corn Fritters, combine 1½ cups sifted enriched flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, ¾ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon pepper and 1½ cups shredded sharp Cheddar Cheese.

Stir together until well blended 2 beaten eggs, 1 cup drained whole kernel corn, ½ cup milk and 1½ tablespoons melted shortening or oil. Add liquid mixture to flour mixture stirring only until flour is well moistened. Drop by tablespoons into deep hot fat (375 degrees F.) and fry until browned (about 3 or 4 minutes), turning frequently. Drain on absorbent paper. Serve hot with maple sirup or tomato sauce, if desired.

IT'S SPRINGTIME and asparagus time and here is a brand new recipe that will add that spring touch to the menu.

Try rolling asparagus in thin pancakes and dolloping it with a chipped beef parmesan sauce.

Roll Asparagus in Pancakes For a Delicious Spring Dish

When asparagus is in season, do you ever wish you could have it every meal?

Try this new taste treat for a new hoist to your menu. It may be made ahead of time.

The cottage cheese and instant nonfat dry milk make it a substantial main dish for brunch, lunch or supper. It is a one dish meal that is considerate of the cook's time.

Bake it in your prettiest shallow casserole and bring to the table for admiring eyes and hungry people.

How To Make It

1 electric fry pan or griddle. 1 flat casserole 7½ x 12 x 2" Preheated 350 degree oven

PANCAKE:

3 eggs, well beaten ¾ cup sieved cottage cheese 2 tablespoons water ½ teaspoon salt 1-3 cup instant nonfat dry milk 1-3 cup flour

Stuff Muffins With Surprise

Hidden Surprise Muffins are an easy variation of basic muffin batter. Spoon the batter into greased muffin tins filling them 1-3 full. Add a spoonful of jam and top with remaining batter.

Bake as usual. For an extra flavor fillip, brush the tops of the baked muffins with melted butter or margarine and sprinkle with cinnamon-sugar.

Plant Care

NEW YORK (UPI) — The soil in which potted plants are grown should be loosed occasionally to permit the constant exchange of air the plants need. The soil may be broken gently with a small fork before watering.

Cady's to Depart P.D. For Summer

PALM DESERT — Just in from Nebraska is Faye Kennebeck who spent Easter with her daughter and family in Wichita, Kansas, (and helped celebrate grandson Johnny's seventh birthday), then drove to Omaha on business. Faye has a new grandson, John Evans Kennebeck, son of John and Donna Kennebeck of Palos Verdes, born May 5th.

The Fred Blades were recent visitors in Scottsdale, Arizona.

Leaving soon are the Fred Cady's, for their summer at Newport Beach; the James Barton's for Spokane, Wash., and the fair; the Clifford Ives, for Lake Bemidji in northern Minnesota; the Jack Horner's, for their yearly trip around some continent.

Randall Henderson addressed the regional meeting of the National League of American Pen Women. The luncheon was held at the Fireside Inn in Beaumont, and was hosted by the San Bernardino Branch. Mrs. Torrey Spangnel, of Palm Desert, is president of the Palm Springs group.

Dr. and Mrs. Matt Lasher (Betty), and their son Buzz, were down from Beverly Hills to spend time in their new Fairway Cottage. Other Cottage owners are Betty and Cliff Ives, who will occupy their's when they return in October.

Former Cherub of the Teen-angels Valentine Berkly, a busy with plans for the Tick Tocker swimming party at Eldorado. Her house guest Valerie Daum (daughter of the William Howard Daums) has just returned to Beverly Hills, and Valentine is planning to attend Valerie's graduation from Marlborough in June.

The Les Browns are in South America.

Myra Ehman was a guest of the Cliff Carlings for dinner and lots of "catching up". (Myra and Rhea are friends from Hollywood High days). Mrs. Ehman visited the desert while her husband, Commodore H. G. Ehman of the SS President Cleveland was on a voyage. Rhea showed Myra her abstracts, one of which won honorable mention at the Indio Fair.

Randall Henderson vows to write to Ann Landers for assistance if his talented sculptress wife, Cyria, doesn't start a new art project soon.

Margaret Hunter, fashion artist from Santa Monica, is also a fine portrait painter. She has opened a studio in the desert, and is gaining rapid recognition here for her excellent studies.

Mrs. Howard Wilmoth was the guest of her mother Mrs. Phillip McClay over the weekend. Accompanying her was her son John, 15, and her little daughter, Philippa Jean, who is five.

Bill Matthews, from Omaha, Nebr., is a house guest of John Kennedy. The young men are old friends, and attended Creighton University together in Omaha.

The Palmer Powell's flew to San Francisco to attend the opening of the Crystal Shopping Center on the Peninsula. Powell has an interest in the Center.

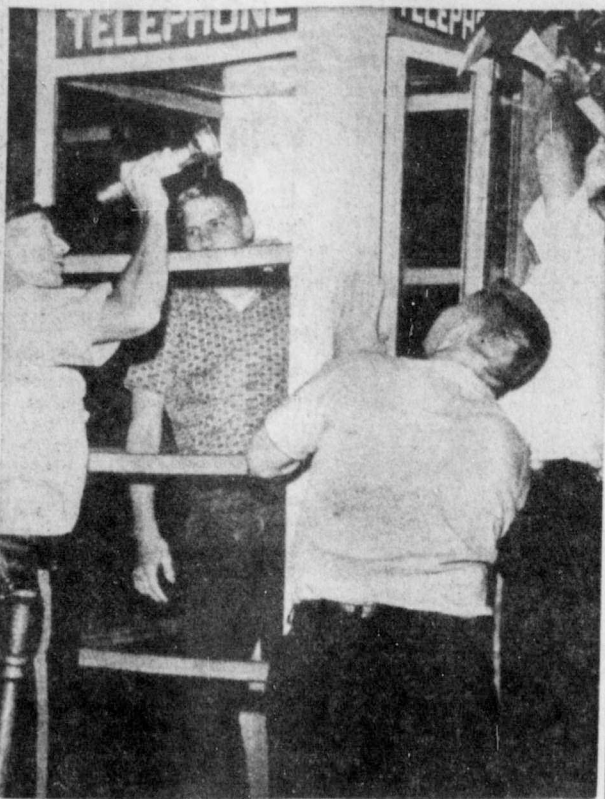

The George Berkey's have had as weekend house guests the William Justice's from Beverly Hills. Caroline's mother, Mrs. Milton A. Stratton from Westwood, has been visiting at the Peacock Lane home of the Berkey's for the past two weeks. Young son Geep also had a houseguest, young Bill Daum from Beverly Hills.

Dorothy and Wynn Andrews report that relaxing on the good ship Alcapuleo as they cruised Mexican waters is a good way to start the summer.

Vera Gordon is giving her young protegee Ettoire the thrill of his life by taking him on the popular Yarmouth Cruise that sails to Seattle for a grand view of the Fair (and the ship acts as a hotel during their stay. Many local residents are planning to see the Fair this easy way.

GROCERY!
NEW YORK (UPI) — Twenty-five cents out of every dollar spent on groceries goes for an item sold to the supermarket by a food broker, representing between $15 and $18 billion of the total grocery sales of $59 billion, according to a large food brokerage firm.

PRISONERS for a hour was the results of Ronnie Eubanks phone call to a girl friend in Montgomery, Ala. Policemen and city firemen are shown at work, trying to free the young lover from his cage. (UPI Telephoto)

Government Reports Show Business Hits a New High

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Business blossomed out in April, the government has reported. Industrial production, retail sales and personal income climbed to new highs and employment rose sharply.

Reports from government agencies added up to a highly encouraging picture of an expanding economy. Officials hoped the new statistics would dispel some of the gloom caused by recent declines in the stock market.

Administration leaders also were hopeful that the spring spurt would prompt businessmen to boost investment spending, thereby opening up new jobs and pumping more thrust into the economy.

The Federal Reserve Board said industrial activity rose across a broad front in April with steel the only major area to show a decline.

Automobile production increased 8 per cent and a further, slight rise is occurring in May, the board said. Stepped up output of furniture, television sets and most other consumer goods, as well as transportation equipment and machinery, all contributed to the expansion.

Players to Present New Play

For an evening of unique diversion, the Yucca Valley Players are offering a new play entitled, "The Just and the Damned", framed in a setting conceived to enhance the mystifying experiences of a party of air travelers forced down in the Himalayas.

In a pagan temple where the four women and four men take refuge, unbelievable incidents occur, which during the course of their stay, separates the good and evil among them.

Making her initial debut on the Yucca Valley stage is Dee White, playing the role of Allie Mason, the Jester. Known to New York audiences as Delia Sands, this versatile entertainer joins the Players with many years of theatrical experience having been associated with the Roxy Theatre in New York and Radio City Music Hall during the 'thirties' as a choreographer and stage director. Miss Sands spent some two years with Tommy Dorsey a vocalist and also toured America in U.S.O. shows during the wartime 'forties'.

The Players as well as their patrons of the coming production are fortunate to have Dee White in the cast of "The Just and the Damned," supported by eight other competent performers.

The play will be presented June 14, 15 and 16 in the Yucca Valley Community Service Club. Following the show on Saturday evening, dancing will commence to round out a full night of entertainment.

Heads Lions

Ed Donahue, newly elected president of the Cathedral City Lions Club, will be installed in ceremonies during a dinner program at the North Shore Club, Salton Sea, May 25, it was announced.

Nixon Proposes Reforms

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Richard M. Nixon today proposed a sweeping 10-point program to reorganize California's government in an address before the San Francisco Commonwealth Club.

"The need for revitalized government is greater than in any other state in the union," the Republican gubernatorial candidate charged. He said his program would give California "a more efficient, less costly and more responsive state government."

Nixon called for the following actions:
—Revision of the state constitution, a 75,000 word document which Nixon called "verbosity on a rampage."

—Streamlining the swarm of state commissions, bureaus, agencies and departments. He said "it is not enough to put a shiny tin weathervane on top of an old barn. We must replace the rotten rafters and sagging floor boards."

—Elimination of "the super-administrators, the expensive state-paid press agents and all other surplus baggage that has accumulated in our government."

—Making maximum use of career employees and elected officials, with the lieutenant governor conducting year-round investigations into the operation of government agencies.

—Reapportioning of the state Senate.
—Holding continuous two-year sessions of the Legislature.

THEIR CUP OF TEA
LONDON (UPI) — Englishmen drink an average of 2,000 cups of tea a year — about six cups a day — the newspaper Evening Standard said Monday. It said Irishmen average 1,800 cups a year, New Zealanders 1,450 cups, and Australians 1,200 cups.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A beautiful day for you to use every effort to get your affairs, and especially any unfinished property or financial interests on a more solid and secure basis so you know where you are going in days to come. Fine for impressing influential persons with your own particular capabilities of a worldly nature, too.

ARIES (Birthdays from Mar. 21 to Apr. 19)—Be sure to step out into the business world and get influential persons to back you, plus any data required to make a greater success of your career. Be clever.

TAURUS (Birthdays from Apr. 20 to May 20)—With all those ideas of a practical nature swimming in your head, this is the time to get the cooperation of friends who have the information you need. Get ahead socially in P. M.

GEMINI (Birthdays from May 21 to June 21)—Use that ingenious mind of yours now to get books in highly efficient order and impress higher-ups who expect you to do your best. Romantically fine in P. M.

MOON CHILDREN (Birthdays from June 22 to July 21)—This is a day when you can do as you think best without interference from others. First make your plans, then act quickly on decisions. Remove stumbling blocks easily.

LEO (Birthdays from July 22 to Aug. 21)—Keep busily occupied at analytical work where the property and assets of others, as well as your own, are concerned. Ask for ideas from workers about you, too.

VIRGO (Birthdays from Aug. 22 to Sept. 22)—You can be a source of inspiration to others now by the way in which you handle own affairs efficiently, wisely. Get new systems started. Then go out and have a ball.

LIBRA (Birthdays from Sept. 23 to Oct. 22)—Close ties have good suggestions now which you should consider seriously so that the future can be more secure and harmonious for all concerned. Invite guests in tonight.

SCORPIO (Birthdays from Oct. 23 to November 21)—Every opportunity is yours to gather the data you require at this time and later to work out a more efficient system of operation with associates. Have fun in P. M.

SAGITTARIUS (Birthdays from Nov. 22 to Dec. 21)—Every chance is now yours to impress right people in business and those who have power over your affairs with efficient manner in which you handle own affairs. This brings advancement.

CAPRICORN (Birthdays from Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)—Study well how to get greater cooperation from close ties and to increase harmony between you. Then get out socially and meet worthwhile people. Be charming.

AQUARIUS (Birthdays from Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)—You have been so helpful to others in the past that you literally neglected own affairs. Now they willingly return favors if you but open your mouth. Be practical.

PISCES (Birthdays from Feb. 20 to Mar. 20)—Listen to the ideas of trusted friends who have had greater experience than yourself and you will get excellent results. Enjoy pals socially this evening.

If Your Child Is Born Today—he, or she, will early get fine ideas of a constructive nature and also know exactly how to carry them out efficiently, what angles to use for best results. However, be sure you train along ethical and moral lines in early youth so that relationships with fellow man can be harmonious. Finest outlet here is the management of property and the like. "The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life largely up to "you!"

Cook Has Dog Sled - Will Travel

COLLEGE, Alaska (UPI)—When Miss Agnes Burget, head cook at the University of Alaska cafeteria, yells "mush!" she isn't talking about the corn meal cereal. She's talking to her sled dogs to get them going.

Miss Burget says she hasn't the time nor the patience to pamper an automobile or worry about getting stuck on snow-covered roads in 60 below zero weather. So she travels between job and home by dog sled.

She has mushed to work and wherever else she has had to go during the past three winters. No worries about gas bills, mechanics, wrecker tow bills or other winter driving bugaboos.

All she has to do is go out in her back yard, hook up her black Chesapeake team and mush off. A trail over the hills leads from her home to the university two miles away. The dogs are kept in a shed at the school while she works.

Miss Burget isn't the only one who uses this mode of transportation. During the winter here, "And it's also a lot of fun."

JAMES D. BENSON, senior student at Southern Oregon College, has received a graduate assistantship amounting to $2,600 for advanced business study at the University of Nevada. Benson will receive his bachelor of science degree in general studies in June. He has majored in social science. Benson, who has been on the honor roll for five terms, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Gilligan of Palm Springs.

it's not at all unusual to see both faculty members and students come mushing onto the campus. "It's the safest, fastest, most economical and most dependable transportation I know of," Miss Burget reports enthusiastically. "And it's also a lot of fun."

Laos Again Reveals Our Mistakes

News dispatches from Southeast Asia where United States Marines have again landed, renew the concern of the average man over the actions of our policy makers in Washington. Despite the billions spent to bolster our foreign policy, if it can be called a policy, we seem to be losing ground steadily.

The layman was puzzled when the United States financed the United Nations campaign in the Congo against the Katangese who were pro-Western while the forces the UN aided, leaned toward the Communists.

He was further mystified when the United States, after pouring billions into foreign aid, some of it going to Red satellites, turned down $73 million in payment to a good and long-time friend in the Pacific, the Philippines. That was an obligation, to pay for World War II damages. The billions to Europe, Africa and Asia, went as gifts.

Now the lesson of Laos and Southeast Asia again casts shadows on our policies.

It demonstrates again that we have not profited by the experiences of history. The lesson is simple. People will fight to the death for a cause in which they believe. Our own national archives prove that. But they will not fight well for a cause in which they do not believe.

In Southeast Asia, our policy-makers are now supporting four unpopular governments, all threatened by Communist take-over — Laos, Viet Nam, Thailand and Cambodia. Virtually dictatorships, these regimes strive to hold their political opponents down by force, increasing rigid police and civil controls. We not only support them diplomatically but with money, weapons and power to suppress opposition.

And then we are puzzled when the people will not fight with enthusiasm to perpetuate these governments.

There is no incentive to risk death to remain independent if there is no independence at home.

Countries where the people know that the ambition and program of the regime is sincerely to aid them, turn out good and determined men to protect them.

Unrecognized by the policy makers who bemoan the lack of fight in some of the loyal troops in these countries is that, in most cases, the rebels who seem to be winning, are also natives of those countries. But they believe they have a cause — and it is not always communism.

Laos should teach another lesson. It is an important lesson which should not be forgotten or tucked away in a remote corner.

While military aid, even if only advisory, is important and financial assistance, wisely administered to see that it serves the purpose for which intended, is equally so, another factor, now apparently overlooked, seems more so.

That is a closer look at the political situation in these countries with a view to solving the problem of what to do and how to proceed, with unpopular regimes.

We cannot succeed fighting for freedom on the one hand and aiding oppressors on the other.

It Takes More than a Swatter

The Riverside County Board of Supervisors has gone on the offensive against a public enemy, not only a nuisance and a pest but a genuine health menace — the all-too-common house fly.

There will be strict control over places where they breed and heavy fines for violations. The law was adopted as an emergency measure and is in effect now.

Too many people, however, while agreeing that the fly is a pest and a nuisance, overlook its broader menace.

If they heard a radio blare the warning of a criminal at large and a potential bearer of disease, sometimes even death, they would bar all doors and windows and prepare to defend themselves.

But every day, they let a less heralded criminal into their homes at will to make himself at home. And the fly does make himself at home. He breeds in filth, wanders across garbage and other wastes, then comes into the house and walks on our bodies, clothing, food, plates and everywhere. All most people do is to absent-mindedly shoo him away to contaminate another spot and, if a swatter is not too far out of reach, make a half-hearted effort to do him in.

The trouble is, too many people regard the fly merely as a nasty pest, to be shooed away or, if not too much effort, swatted to end his noisy buzzing.

He should be recognized as a transmitter of germs and diseases ranging from colds and influenza to typhoid, diphtheria, polio and dysentery. People need a refresher course on the real menace of the fly. The fly is more than a nuisance.

The county now has an ordinance to control flies. The city, with the season for swatting and swearing almost at hand, has a nuisance ordinance which could take care of the pest and flies are mentioned in the lawn fertilizer measure.

But it could be that something stronger, aimed directly at the spots where flies breed, would be of help.

HOLMES ALEXANDER:

Self Criticism Among the Russians

WASHINGTON, D. C. — "Liars, humbugs, irresponsible windbags are our worst enemies," declared Premier Khrushchev on one of his forays into the Russian farm belt where he tried to stir rustics to high production.

To drive all workers for the Soviet State to greater efforts, the Premier called upon Russian writers to turn out comedies which applied the lash of satire to the laggards.

Soviet playwright Sergei Mikhailov dutifully wrote "A Monument to Myself," based on the Khrushchev formula. The playwright laid the throng upon stuffy, dishonest and pompous officials who apparently make up a godly part of Russian bureaucracy.

As might be expected, Khrushchev liked the play—but its victims did not. Pravda gave it the official blessing, saying that, "The new comedy effectively points out the substance of Philistinism under present-day conditions. It exposes the Philistine . . . who in this epoch of heroic deeds is more intolerable than ever." At the Moscow Theater of Satire, the show went over big. But out in the provinces—well, wait!

Brings Hot Response

At the town of Pravdinsk, where the local House of Culture staged the comedy, a local bigwig perceived a likeness of himself in the lampooned role. A. O. Pavlov, chief of the housing and communal service department of the Balakhna Pulp and Paper Factory, delivered his own critique of the play:

"I hereby inform you that I have never been a parasite, a loafer or a buffoon," he declared indignantly. He went on to condemn the broad comic devices where, he said, "an artist belches slander against community activists . . ." He didn't see anything funny about it. He called satire a decadent form of art that "went into disrepute in the 17th century."

Under Communism, it apparently doesn't pay to give the hotfoot to a local boss. As a result of Comrade Pavlov's blast, the play was examined by a factory trade union committee. Not unnaturally, these comrades endorsed their boss's anger and reprimanded the producer.

By now a chain reaction had set in. When the play was accepted for production by the Severodvinsk Theater, the chief of the executive committee on culture told a meeting:

"I wish to convey to you the views of the City Party Committee which feels that 'A Monument to Myself' should not be staged . . ."

It wasn't staged. At the next stop on the borsch circuit, the Novosibirsk Regional Theater rehearsed the play but thought better of producing it in public. One of the officials of this theater group roasted the play and lauded the actors for keeping it from the public, saying: "A Monument to Myself" (is) a vicious piece which maligns our way of life. Fortunately the company itself has had the courage to re-evaluate and cancel the show."

The playwright tells all this in a recent Communist magazine article, but not in the spirit of a Broadway wit whose brainchild had been banned in Peoria and Oshkosh. Mikhailov, a patient and loyal party member, still believes Khrushchev to be right and the local comrades to be too touchy.

But nowhere does the author write like the satirist he's supposed to be. Instead of treating satire as a gadfly looking for targets of opportunity, he depicts it as a beast of burden, highly destined to carry Marxian messages and Khrushchevian dictates. Mikhailov writes:

"The building of a Communist society is a many-faceted and complex process in which . . . criticism and self-criticism become a basic, tested fighting tool . . . That is why the Party . . . so highly values the keenest of all weapons."

In view of what happened to his own play, this last remark is the funniest line of all.

In many an office, store and home, The arguments begin. Turn it off, turn it on you hear them shout, It's cold (or hot) as sin.

The public relations man we will always have with us. He sends letters on how to keep husbands in the pink, the budget out of the red, the lawn green and even how to dodge the blues.

AT HAND is a beautifully colored brochure from the California Electric Power Company where Francis Crocker sat and dreamed up how to change summer into winter by building a tramway up the mountain side.

It, too, deals with the weather and the ways to lick it. It contains views of experts who did a bit of research work and everybody ought to have a copy. It would be useful to flash on your opponent in the hot argument on how to keep cool.

FOR INSTANCE, when the wife demands that you speed up the cooler, it's hotter than the place no lady would mention outside, the husband would silently pull out the brochure and show her where 11 experts out of 10 say you should keep the house between 78 and 80 degrees no matter how hot it is outside. That should shut her up.

Changing the relationship of the belicose parties, the same will apply to store and office.

AND BESIDES, the experts say, not only do nine out of 10 doctors follow that advice themselves but that's the cheapest way to run a cooler. Cost of cooling goes up fast for every degree under 78. Caloric people aren't greedy and they'd just as soon lose a few pennies, rather than see you freeze because some robust guy wants it colder. And then there are those dimwits who don't understand such scientific matters and insist on keeping doors and windows wide open while the cooling system is churning away.

SHOW THEM the brochure where the experts say open windows and doors just bring in a lot of dust which will make them sneeze, and hot air which will burden the cooler and nick their pocketbooks.

There are a lot of other bits of good advice, too long for the small space I can grab each day. They even tell you how to paint your house to make it cooler.

You just can't have everything. You should paint in light colors which makes it cooler inside but which reflects a glare into the eyes of those outside.

That's all right, though. Dark glasses are made to sell, not gather dust on shelves.

CALECTRIC is even kind to the people who make a living looking after coolers.

They tell you that if you want to keep cool, have your coolers checked regularly.

That brochure should keep the cold war in office, store and home from turning into a hot war.

And if your cooler should conk out, just wait until next May and ride the Tramway from summer to spring.

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Dear Abby...

DEAR ABBY: I live in a city where most people aren't farmers, but they have to get up early in the morning to get to government jobs or to take their children to school. All we can get on the radio at breakfast time is talk about dying chickens, coccidiosis, rat poison, hoof and mouth disease, calf scours, worms and insect sprays. This makes it very difficult to down a poached egg.

It seems to me they could give us shopping bargains, home building improvements and things to discuss with hubby while he's still home. I bet the farmers are out doing chores at that hour. And anyway, even farmers don't like pip and crud for breakfast. —EARLY URP

DEAR ABBY: I'll send you my letter to the F. C. C.—as if they don't have enough headaches.

DEAR ABBY: In answer to "Too Tall," women in the know go for small men. That's why they go wild over Latin-Americans and fight over jockeys. The big, tall men fall apart earlier. They get pot-bellies and double chins and succumb to heart attacks in their mid-forties, while the little wiry man is still going strong. The next time you go to a dance, notice that the best dancers on the floor are the smaller men. Half the women married to tall, dark and handsome men would love to trade them for the little runt they wouldn't go out with before they got married. —VOICE OF EXPERIENCE

DEAR ABBY: I have a pen pal. She is a 23-year-old woman living in a foreign country. She is anxious to come to this country and wants to marry me. We have exchanged pictures and she is very pretty. I know very little of her past, but she writes interesting letters and tells me how much she loves me. I have sent her money on different occasions when she has asked me to help her out. That was foolish, wasn't it? My experience with women has been limited as I am slightly handicapped. I've never been married. I am not a kid. Can you advise me how to get out of this correspondence without hurting her? —"THIRTY-SIX"

DEAR "THIRTY-SIX": Write her and tell her that you think it best to terminate the correspondence. You do not owe her any explanation. You were foolish to "help her out" with money, knowing so little about her. Break, and break clean.

DEAR ABBY: I don't see why that lady kicked up such a fuss because her husband mentioned other women's names in his sleep. I would rather have my husband dreaming "about" someone else than dreaming "with" her. —NO ILLUSIONS

BOB CONSIDINE:

White Man's Burden Has Another Name

NEW YORK — Empath-minded Englishmen of another generation signed elegantly and called their troubles with the overseas heathens and malcontents the white man's burden. We inherited the yoke but have never been blunt enough, or felt superior enough, to give it such a name.

Americans of all shades bear the re-labeled burden for much of the world today, through their taxes and demands on their time and talent. There's no question that Western Europe and Japan would have had a horrendous time after World War II if it were not for operation open heart — Marshall Plan, Point IV, MacArthur's proconsulship, etc. It's quite possible some never could have made it without us.

There was a period when we tended to hit the ceiling like an over-demanding parent if these peoples did not kiss our hand in grateful gratitude and conduct their affairs precisely as we conduct our own. But we've largely come out of that now. We're developing into not only a world power with incredible striking strength, to impose our will, but a power with increasingly less desire to do so. Up to a point, at least, we are the most understanding nation in history. Perhaps it's just as well that we took over from Britain.

What we have assumed is not so much the white man's burden as the American migraine. There's not too much to do about a migraine except bear it, cope with it, and carry on with the expectation that it will go away, or at least get a little better.

Wife and Business
Take the matter of the money we spread around Kenya "to improve business conditions."

The chiefs, in some cases used it to buy spare wives. Now, on the face of it, this a deplorable way to spend money which came from the often hard-pressed pockets of a nation which prides itself in its monogyny. The chiefs were called to task by our man in Nairobi. They were surprised and hurt that we should question their motives. Wives, they patiently explained, to the blanching American, produce children — about half of them daughters. Daughters, in turn, can be sold at fine prices to lonesome bachelors or to men seeking to expand in the wife business. Thus they were improving business conditions in their community.

An isolated case perhaps, but part of the migraine. We will have it for a long time to come. The only alternative is to turn our backs on the world and revert to the isolation of the prehistoric 1930's. The Kremlin would like nothing better.

David Johnson, the Philadelphia who took his wife and two kids to Russia to live "forever," lasted just ten days in the people's paradise.

Chicken.
He said he was thoroughly disillusioned, in the course of a train-ride from Leningrad to Moscow, to see people living in hovels and sheds. In Moscow, he added in horror, people looked shabby and tried to buy the clothes off his back and that of his wife.

So what's new, chum? Correspondents and travelers to the U.S.S.R. have been reporting on that sort of thing for years

J. Edgar Hoover, 38 years in his job, is unique among the public servants in U.S. history. He took a rotten organization and made it into the best and most respected investigative force in the world. Once the refuge of scoundrels, the disgrace that crystallized into the Federal Bureau of Investigation can boast of a record without compare, born of dedicated agents and employees who know no timeclock or sense of self.

In this country, we discourage the philosophy of the indispensable man. Toward that end, there is a fairly fresh amendment to the Constitution ruling our prolonged indispensability for presidents. Yet, J. Edgar Hoover comes as close to that status as one can recall. Think of the changes in the land and its attitude toward its servants since he was given the job by Attorney General Harlan Fiske Stone! Think of the presidents who have sustained and respected this man—Coolidge, Hoover, Roosevelt, Truman, Eisenhower and now Kennedy! (REG. U.S. PAT. OFF.)

Letters to The Editor

Desert Sun

Dear Sir,

I wish to relate my personal experience with regard to one small isolated instance of humane or conservation work! In consideration of the vast amounts of monies which are allotted and donated toward these causes.

We found a roadrunner in our yard with a broken leg. We were nonplussed as to what to do, so we telephoned the Palm Springs Humane Society, only to be given another number by the operator, which turned out to be a Desert Hot Springs number.

After telephoning various listings for local humane societies and receiving no answer, the local fire department said that this would be the concern of the state fish and game conservation representative in LaQuinta. Reaching him, he declined to do anything about this and suggested that we take the injured bird to a veterinary at our own expense.

We then called the Sheriff's office in Indio and their only suggestion was that we shoot the bird. Isn't the sheriff's office aware of the ordinance against discharging firearms in residential Palm Desert? Or that the roadrunner is a protected bird?

So what did the combined "forces" of all our humane societies or conservationists add up to? That we shoot this injured bird.

Private individuals finally took care of the matter — first by Lou Kuehner's kindness in picking the bird up at our home, and secondly by the kindness of Dr. Jackson of Desertview Animal Clinic who offered to put the leg in a splint.

Of course we could just have thrown it over the fence to die — if we did that with all our injured wild life we'd save untold thousands of the taxpayer's money!

Mrs. L. C. Cotner

Probe Missing Furniture Case

Palm Springs police today are investigating the case of unknown intruders who slipped into a house through a louvered opening — and left with the furniture.

George Whiting, Beverly Hills man with a home at 1951 Camino Del Monte here, his house had been entered and some draperies and other things taken.

The other things, police found, included a television set, radio, bedclothes, home appliances, liquor and miscellaneous items.

Angels Sweep Red Sox Series

Dodgers Drop Three Straight to Cards

Face Giants Tonight

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Civil war breaks out tonight at Chavez Ravine when the San Francisco Giants make their first visit to the new home of the Los Angeles Dodgers.

The league-leading Giants catch the Dodgers after the St. Louis Cardinals swept a three-game series that dropped Los Angeles to third place.

Manager Walter Alton, sends Sandy Koufax (4-2), the strikeout king of the majors, to the mound in his first appearance of the season against the Giants.

For San Francisco, Billy O'Dell (5-1), who beat the Dodgers earlier at Candlestick Park, was scheduled to start.

With Los Angeles pitching having slumped, Alton drew some comfort from the relief work of Larry Sherry who pitched the final two innings of Sunday's 4-3 loss to St. Louis and set the Cards down in order, striking out three of the six men he faced.

Encouraging Note

"Sherry looked as good as he has in a long time, and that could mean a lot," Alton said. "It was the most encouraging thing in the Cardinal series."

Alton, however, was uncertain who his pitcher would be Tuesday. He said it could be Don Drysdale; Johnny Podres, if he has recovered from being hit on his pitching arm by a line drive, or Stan Williams.

Veteran hurler Curt Simmons gave himself a one-day belated birthday present—he was 33 Saturday—by pitching his sixth complete-game victory Sunday for the Cardinals, although he was in trouble from the sixth inning on due chiefly to errors by his teammates.

All three Los Angeles runs were unearned because of errors. But a double play in the eighth inning cut off a possible Dodger rally, and Simmons ended the game in the ninth with two men on base.

Julio Gotay's error in the sixth on a would-be force play left two men on base for the Dodgers, with Willie Davis driving in one run and the other scoring on a double play.

The Cardinals picked up two runs off Los Angeles starter Joe Moeller, who was charged with the loss. Reliever Phil Ortega gave up the other two runs in the one-third inning he pitched on a walk, a double to catcher Carl Sawatski and a sacrifice fly before Ed Roebuck could come in and put out the fire. It was Roebuck's eighth appearance in the 1st nine games and he did not give up a hit in the 1-2-3 innings he worked.

The Sunday crowd of 38,474 gave the Dodgers an attendance figure of 129,984 for the Cardinal games.

SOLID SECOND BASEMAN

Rigney Speaks Highly of Moran

No one knows better the importance of a good, solid second baseman than Bill Rigney, manager of the Los Angeles Angels, a former infielder.

Good keystone play is an integral part of a ball club. Without the strength down-the-middle, no club can hope to click. The Angels found this out last year, when they had a fluid second-base-shortstop combination at the outset of the season.

For the first two months of 1961, they couldn't seem to make the doubleplays which are necessary. Then Fred Haney purchased Joe Koppe for shortstop and Billy Moran for second base—and it turned out to be one of his best moves of the year.

Moran, this season, has been outstanding. The quiet, spoken Georgian came to the Angels'

Palm Springs camp as a question-mark this spring. Billy had been sidelined from Aug. 25 last year because of an injured back.

During the off-season, however, Moran went through a rigid regimen of strengthening his back by walking daily, hunting and bending exercises. "I knew that playing with the Angels was a great opportunity, so I did everything humanly possible to prepare myself for this season," Billy says.

Bill not only strengthened himself physically, but he worked diligently on improving his batting. His defensive work never was anything to worry about. In previous Major League tests, Billy's Bat had been the problem. No so anymore. For Moran jumped off to a quick and solid start at the plate and he credits his improvement to a change in his stance.

"I moved back from the plate a bit so that I step into the ball now. I'm able to see the pitch better and most important, I don't move my head anymore," Billy points out. "In fact, I find that I'm hitting the ball better to right field and I'm hitting the ball more solidly."

This is borne out by the early-season averages, which found Moran close to the top amongst the Angels. Billy's play—ofttimes sensational—is appreciated by those close to the team.

Rigney says, "Billy always gives you 100 per cent all the time. He is a hard worker and believe me, those of us on the club appreciate Moran's fine work around second base."

Moran is one of those players who falls into the under-rated category. You almost take his work for granted. That is, until he comes up with the hit which wins the game or the defensive maneuver which saves the game.

At 28, Billy Moran as a good, solid future in front of him. It is a future which is certain to rise as will the Angels fortunes.

Bo Hurls Two Hit Shutout

NEW YORK (UPI) — The streaking Los Angeles Angels, who for a while last week were a bit hesitant about the affair, today again were head over heels for their new Bo—Belinsky.

The ostentatious, pool-playing, twist-dancing rookie pitcher was bombed from the game by Baltimore Thursday night for his first loss after five wins, leading pessimists to venture the honeymoon was over.

But Belinsky Sunday nearly returned to his no-hit pitching form when he stopped the Boston Red Sox on two hits in the second game of a doubleheader, 1-0, after the Angels took the opener, 3-3.

The Angels arrived from Boston Sunday night for the opener of their series against the Yankees Tuesday night.

Four-Game Sweep

Belinsky's performance in the nightcap, that gave Los Angeles a sweep of the four-game series against Boston and moved them into fourth place in the American League, was the first complete game for a Los Angeles pitcher since Bo threw his no-hitter May 5.

He struck out three and ran his record to 6-1, three of them complete games.

Lee Thomas singled home the only run of the second game, scoring Leon Wagner in the third off loser and 1961 American League rookie of the year Don Schwall.

"How about that for pitching," chirped beaming Manager Bill Rigney after Belinsky's morale lifter. "Yes, I thought Bo was every bit as good as when he hurled his no-hitter."

One Solid Hit

Only one of the hits off Bo was a solid blow, Bill Tillman's fourth inning double. The other was a bunt single to the first Boston batter in the game, Pete Runnels.

The day also was a bright one for the Angels in the fact it was their first doubleheader victory on the road in their brief history.

In the opener, Angels starter Ken McBride picked up his third win of the season, although he pitched two home runs to Boston outfielder Carroll Hardy. However, the homers—with none on in the fourth and one on in the sixth—were the only Red Sox scores.

Angels catcher Bob Rodgers drove in what proved to be the winning run on a sacrifice fly in the fifth following singles by Albie Pearson and Leon Wagner.

The Angels now have an 18-15 record. Last Season Los Angeles didn't win its 18th game until June 8. Of course, last year Los Angeles didn't have Bob Belinsky.

Simsarian LL Team Leads Water Co. by 1

The Simsarian Little Leaguers, front runners of the league at this early date, split two games over the weekend to hold a one point edge over the Water Co. nine.

Friday night, Simsarian defeated Sambo's, the newest team in the league, 8-3, for their fourth straight win, but Saturday evening ran up against the C.N.B. stickmen who turned in their best game during the past two years and hung a 2-1 defeat on the league leaders.

The C.N.B. team dropped a 6-3 decision to the Rotary ball club Friday night to split their two weekend games. These two teams turned in the first errorless ball game of the season as both clubs went the distance without any miscues.

Members of the Jr. Police team beat the Hathaway Braves Friday evening, 5-2, but had to settle for a tie ball game Saturday evening as they battled the Water Co. to a 4-4 deadlock.

The Hathaway Braves won Saturday night when they edged the C.V.S.L.A. nine, 7-5, to gain a tie for third place in the league with the Jr. Police team.

In the wildest game of the season, the Water Co. squeezed out a 12-11 win over the C.V.S.L.A. Friday night. Steve Hall hit a home run and collected three other hits to go four for four for the evening.

Si Oistek had a perfect night at the plate as he picked up five hits for five times at bat.

The Sambo's team lost both games over the weekend as they dropped Friday night's tilt, 8-3, to Simsarian and lost to the Rotary club, 10-3, on Saturday night.

Moss May Not Recover Use of Arm or Leg

WIMBLEDON, England (UPI)—Doctors said today injured automobile racing star Stirling Moss may not recover the full use of his left arm and leg.

"Recovery from the brain damage is likely to be a slow process and there is a possibility that full recovery of function in the arm and leg will not take place," according to a medical bulletin issued at Atkinson Morley Hospital where the British driver was being treated.
